Rep. Dolecheck Announces Re-Election Plans

(MOUNT AYR)—Rep. Cecil Dolecheck (R-Mount Ayr) today announced he will be running for re-election to the Iowa House. Dolecheck serves Adams, Montgomery, Ringgold, and Taylor Counties as well as parts Southeast Union County.

“Last year, government spent an unacceptable amount of money at historic levels,” said Dolecheck. “I will work to find sensible cost-savings as well as continue to stand up against runaway spending, bloated budgets and growing debt. ”

Dolecheck farmed in Ringgold County most of his adult life and has been very involved in community activities such as Farm Bureau, Lions Club, Pork Producers and served 15 years as a 4-H leader. Cecil and his wife, Patti, have five grown children and eleven grandchildren. The family attends Mount Ayr Christian Church.

“Cecil works hard for Iowa’s rural communities. He’s a tremendous listener and a leader in the House,” said House Republican Leader Kraig Paulsen (R-Hiawatha).

In the House, Cecil serves as the Ranking Member on the Education Appropriations subcommittee. He also serves on the Agriculture, Education, and Appropriations committees.
